VOLUNTEERING IS OUR JOB

FINAL BOOKLET 2014-2016

Erasmus+
KA2

The feeling when you help is amazing and when you see the happines s in people´s eyes it fills your heart with joy..

Now I think I have a new family.

We learnt a lot about other countries culture, history and everyday life.

We learned that helping others can make you happy.

A good opportunity to understand another way of thinking, to realise the meaning of being a European citizen.

Different cultures inside the same hearts

countries brotherhood

I learned to touch someone´s heart and how to be a good friend.

INTRODUCTION

At the end of the project, after the wonderful experiences we have enjoyed during the mobilities in these two years, it´s time to keep a record of them all.

Our first stay in Sivas already meant the beginning of a friendship which has been reinforced in each stay in a different country, and which will last for long as this enriching project will keep us connected although it ends this year.

First Turkey, then Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Italy and finally Spain. Volunteering is our job has offered all of us the possibility of meeting each other, working together and sharing the spirit of belonging to a multicultural Europe that cares for our environment, for the disadvantaged ones and tries to give a solution by the way of volunteering. Projects like this one help build the Europe we want, beyond borders, new citizens with a social conscience. Then, we will have reached our goal.

9.30	Meeting at school Leaving Sivas

All partner schools' teachers and students arrived on time and we started to meet each other, together with host families (icebreak meeting)

11-01-2015. We showed a warm welcoming and started the meeting and presentations of the schools.

All partner schools presented their countries, cities, schools

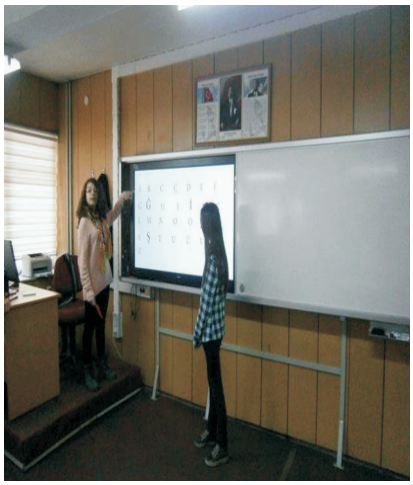
After the presentations of my country, my city and my school each partner school had a chance to get to know each other. It was the best way to understand the different cultures.

Project logo competition: all the schools took part. The logo samples´ meanings were explained by the students. This way they improved their digital skills.

After voting the logos, the project logo was chosen and the prize went to Turkish team.

We would use this logo everywhere: on T-shirts ,brochures and on all the project outputs. It would be a good tool for our project dissemination.

Turkish courses were given to the teachers and students by low -skilled students and voluntary students in 3 sessions . Our aim is to make an awareness of different languages, give responsibilities to the students and make them have self-confidence. Besides, it shows teachers different methods of learning foreign languages.



Turkish Education system was explained and the classes were visited. Getting to know the different education system drew their attention.

A short sightseeing of the city and historical monuments were presented by the host students.

The project toy made of recycling materials from each country was exhibited and voted . It was a good activity to encourage the students to use recycling materials in their lives and improve their imagination. 12-01-2015

The project toy prize went to Bulgaria.

A week voluntary service at Disabled Sports Club made the students be more helpful, sensitive towards disabled people and aware of the people in need. After a week voluntary service, they would like to work there as volunteers in their free time. The students are full of solidarity feelings.

The Turkish students presented Turkish NGOs and their week voluntary service at the disabled Sports Club.

Visiting the local authorities and getting information of the city management.

Brochures about street animals were handed out to local people to disseminate the project and make a close dialogue with the citizens.

All the teachers went to the host families‘ homes for dinner, to get to know the culture and Turkish people´s hospitality

13-01-2015
A cultural trip to Cappadocia to know UNESCO World Heritage

14 -01-2015
Workshop of Turkish traditional paper marbling ‘’EBRU’’ among participants to learn traditional Arts .

The workshop of the project toy among all schools’ students

A Seminar about street animals to make local people aware of animals , set empathy towards them, be against violence on animals and provide a good dissemination of the project.

An exhibition of recycling handcrafts to encourage people to recycle materials

15-01-2015
Giving project outputs to the groups and examining them

Certificate Ceremony

What I have learned: A questionnaire was implemented to ask about the activities , the city , the country , Turkish language and experiences of the participants.

Folkdance performances , Turkish henna night show and performing folk dance with the participants

16-01-2015
Visiting the local animal shelter and feeding them, to set empathy towards animals.

Leaving Sivas with the feeling of friendship and brotherhood which will last forever was so amazing . We managed to make peace and break barriers among different cultures to offer our new generations to open their mind and help them build a peaceful world. They left their Turkish families behind and we could see the happiness of making friends and sadness of leaving on their faces.

		Leaving Hungary

We were waiting for our project partners with great enthusiasm at the airport.

The headmistress welcomed the participants...

... And the week started

On the first day we showed our guests round the school.

The foreign students and teachers tried the “mission impossible”: to learn some Hungarian words and expressions with the help of the Hungarian students taking part in the language course.

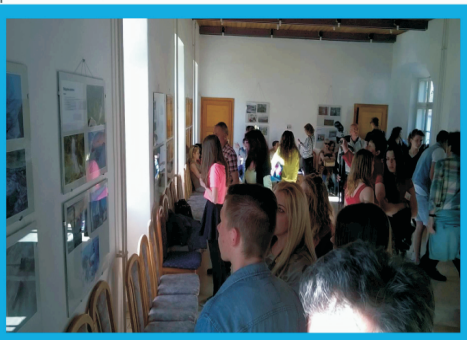
On our way to the top of Mátra hill.

We are enjoying the beauty of the nature at the top of Matra hill

We did volunteering work for the environment together and we built a beautiful garden near the entrance of the school. Since then the Hungarian students have been looking after it with great care.

The students of each country presented their ppt-s on the photos “Save the Nature”.

We organised a photo exhibition in the local community house, where we displayed the photos of problems and catastrophes caused by environmental pollution. The photos were collected by the students of the project from their own country. The exhibition was open to the town’s public for one more week.



The students and the teachers really enjoyed the music workshops where they learnt a folk song from each country and the project song, involving the students from the school choir who didn’t take part in the project.

We were preparing for the charity show for the child care department of the local hospital.

The highlight of the week: all the students and the teachers were singing the project song in the charity show.

Our guests had the chance to get to know and try Hungarian folk dances.

The students showed their presentations on their week's voluntary work they had done in the elderly home

We spent a day in Budapest, where the participants went on a sightseeing tour

It was a great experience for everybody to visit the Parliament and to see the Holy Crown.

After the reception in the Town Hall our guests visited the Grassalkovich Castle and the Hunting Museum.

A cultural program for teachers: visiting the Brewery Museum

In the centre of Hatvan, before the reception in the mayor's office.

VOLUNTEERING IS OUR JOB

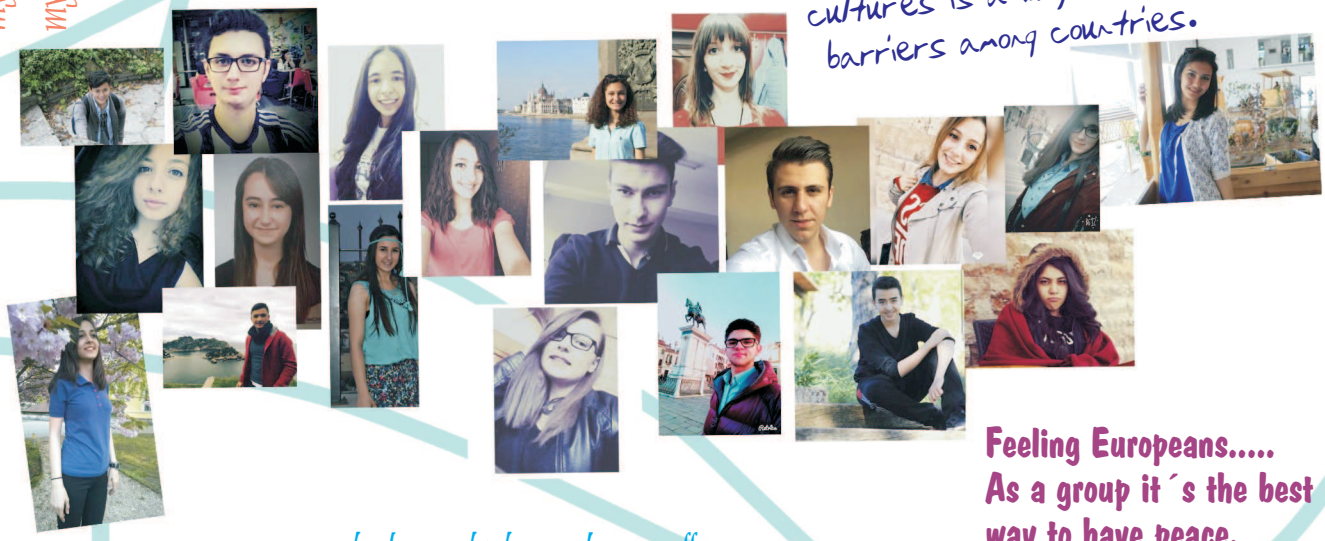
This project changed my whole life and opened my eyes to a new world.

Meeting people from different cultures is a way to break down barriers among countries.



Feeling Europeans.....
As a group it´s the best way to have peace.

Erasmus+ means: the best which people can offer..

After this trip I have something new inside.

IT´S GOOD TO HELPJ UST TO SEE OTHERS SMILE.
